DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Applicant's election without traverse of the tenth species, readable on claims 1 through 12, in Paper No. 9 is acknowledged. No claims need to be withdrawn from consideration as applicant has cancelled all claims not readable on the elected invention.

Drawings

2. New corrected drawings are required in this application because the drawings filed on May 3, 2001 contain numerous informalities as noted in the attached Notice of Draftsperson's Patent Drawing Review, PTO-948. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

3. The amendment filed February 4, 2003 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: the components being selected to have a higher thermal resistivity below TA than above TA as specified in the amended abstract; and the formulas as newly specified in paragraph [0046].

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Art Unit: 3743

4. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it contains new matter as described in greater detail above and also because the first two sentences are written in a run-on fashion.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1 through 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document, contain some grammatical and idiomatic errors, and are written in a generally run-on fashion; the aforementioned qualities are especially true of claim 1 from which all of the remaining claims depend.

Terms such as "therewith" [claim 1, line 6] need to be replaced with a direct recitation of the element(s) referenced thereby. Alternative limitations such as those recited in claim 2 should be rewritten in proper Markush format as appropriate. The limitations following "capped" in claim 8 are also not clear as written.

Art Unit: 3743

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 1 through 12 would be allowable if rewritten or amended, without significant broadening, to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
